Making Good.

There is no way of making lasting friends like "Making Good;" and Doctor Pierce's medicines well exemplify this, and their friends, after more than two decades of popularity, are numbered by the hundreds of thousands. They have "made good" and they have not made drunkards.

A good, honest, square-deal medicine of known composition is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It still enjoys an immense sale, while most of the preparations that have come into prominence in the earlier period of its popularity have "gone by the board" and are never more heard of. There must be some reason for this long-time popularity and that is to be found in its superior merits. When once given a fair trial for weak stomach, or for liver and blood affections, its superior curative qualities are soon manifest; hence it has survived and grown in popular favor, while scores of less meritorious articles have suddenly flashed into favor for a brief period and then been as soon forgotten.

For a torpid liver with its attendant indigestion, dyspepsia, headache, perhaps dizziness, foul breath, nasty coated tongue, with bitter taste, loss of appetite, with distress after eating, nervousness and debility, nothing is so good as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It's an honest, square-deal medicine with all its ingredients printed on bottle-wrapper—no secret, no hocus-pocus humbug, therefore don't accept a substitute that the dealer may possibly make a little bigger profit. Insist on your right to have what you call for.

Don't buy Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription expecting it to prove a "cure-all." It is only advised for woman's special ailments. It makes weak women strong and sick women well. Less advertised than some preparations sold for like purposes, its sterling curative virtues still maintain its position in the front ranks, where it stood over two decades ago. As an invigorating tonic and strengthening nervine it is unequaled. It won't satisfy those who want "booze," for there is not a drop of alcohol in it.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, the original Little Liver Pills, although the first pill of their kind in the market, still lead, and when once tried are ever afterwards in favor. Easy to take as candy—one to three a dose. Much imitated but never equaled.

MRS. GUNNESS'S VICTIMS.

Autopsies on the seven unidentified bodies exhumed from Mrs. Belle Gunness' private burial ground at Laporte, Ind., were completed yesterday. They revealed that one of the seven was a woman.

This revelation aroused new interest in the story that a teacher and his wife came to the house one night in 1904 to take Jennie Olsen, Mrs. Gunness' foster daughter, to a Los Angeles college, as Mrs. Gunness told those about the place. The next morning Jennie and the man and woman were gone. Mrs. Gunness said they had left on an early train for California. The body now declared to be that of a woman was taken from the same hole as that of Jennie Olsen. In that hole also were the bodies of Ole Budsberg, of Iola, Wis., and of another man.

The theory now advanced is that Mrs. Gunness may have, on the same night, murdered Jennie Olsen and the man and woman who had come to take her to California, and buried all three bodies, dismembered, in one pit. The body of Budsberg, who was murdered later in this night, was found nearer the surface than the other three.

The mystery surrounding the watch found on Ray Lamphere when he was arrested was cleared yesterday when J. G. Ramden, of Manfred, N. Dak., who came Sunday to investigate the disappearance of his half brother, John Moe, of Elbow Lake, Minn., identified the time-piece as the one carried by Moe when he left home. Lamphere said Mrs. Gunness gave him the watch.

Prosecutor Smith yesterday received a letter from Brooklyn, N. Y., threatening him with death unless he resigns his office and drops the Gunness investigation. He also received a threatening letter from Washington, D. C. Chief of Police Cochrane has received a letter from New York, saying his life will pay forfeit unless he ceases his activity.

Another probable victim of Mrs. Gunness came to light yesterday when investigation was started for Abraham Phillips, of Ballington, W. Va., who left there in February 1907, to go to Laporte to marry "a rich widow," name unknown. He left his farm and property in West Virginia, but took a large sum of money with him. He has not been seen since. His relatives believe the "rich widow" was Mrs. Gunness.

ROOSEVELT-GOMPERS ALLIANCE.

If the attitude of the National Association of Manufacturers toward the Roosevelt-Gompers alliance is reflected in a statement given out last night by John Kirby, jr., one of the association's directors, there will be some warm proceedings before the adjournment of the annual convention, which went into session in New York yesterday.

Mr. Kirby is the head of the Dayton Manufacturing Company, of Dayton, Ohio, which turns out railroad supplies. He is a republican, and a Taft man, but that has not prevented him from saying some very bitter things.

In his interview, Mr Kirby characterized President Roosevelt as a czar who, in the game of politics, plays both ends against the middle. As Mr. Kirby sees it, the American Federation of Labor is no better than the "forty thieves," and the evils of guerrilla unionism and militant socialism, if unchecked, will lead but to a scarlet empire."

Continuing Mr. Kirby asked:

"But what has the record of organized labor to offer that entitles it to more consideration than would be given to the old band of forty thieves? To compromise or arbitrate with such people is nothing more or less than compounding a felony.

"With a presidential election in sight and the politicians scheming to catch voters, we are face to face with the lamentable spectacle of the president grasping Gompers with the one hand, and with the other wielding a club over Congress, while both he and Gompers in one breath demand the passage of laws which shall give to organized labor immunity from laws by which it can now be restrained from acts of violence.

"In the faint but forlorn hope of gaining a little strength politically, the 93 per cent of unorganized labor is to be coerced or forced to become Gomperized and our old-time rights and privileges which have made this country a haven of opportunity are to be doomed to oblivion, if we will so permit, in order to gratify the ambition of a czar who believes the patriotic citizens of this country are so infatuated with him and his policies that they will tolerate anything and everything which he proposes or demands."

THE REASON.

When Secretary Root was at Panama on his return from South America, a New York Tribune man asked him how long he thought the American occupation of Cuba would last and got the following story in reply:

"A kindergarten teacher asked a class of boys:

"'Have you a warm coat?'

"'Yes,' was the reply.

"'Can you take off your warm coat?'

"'Yes.'

"'Has a bear a warm coat?'

"'Yes.'

"'Can a bear take off his warm coat?'

"'No.'

"'Why cannot a bear take off his warm coat?'

"This puzzled the youngsters a moment and then one cub on the back of the row yelled:

"'Cause God only knows where the but ons are!'"

ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

TUESDAY EVENING, MAY 19, 1908

SPECIAL EDITION.

A special edition of the Alexandria Gazette will be published tomorrow. The edition will be replete with the history of Alexandria, its origin, growth and present conditions. The summary of the business of this city, its institutions, government, &c., will be original and interesting, while the descriptions of its foremost financial and commercial houses will be profuse. Each page will contain pictures of prominent buildings and structures around which cluster history of colonial and revolutionary days. Great care has been exercised in the preparation of this special edition and every Alexandrian should secure a copy of it.

IN AN editorial published in this paper on the sixth of May, attention was called to the charges made by the Culpeper Exponent of corruption and fraud, alleged to have taken place in the county of Louisa in the congressional primary of last year. At the time of the publication of the editorial we felt certain that the facts therein stated were true, because they were gathered from the official records of the auditor's office at Richmond. We were not prepared, however, for the confession which has since come in the form of a circular published over the signature of the treasurer of Louisa county, Mr. P. P. May, and dated May 2, 1908. The circular in question has been sent throughout the district and contains among other things the statement:

"There were 84 names improperly on the treasurer's list."

The entire vote of Louisa, as cast, was 903, and it now seems that 10 per cent. of this vote was placed upon the list in defiance of the law. The treasurer undertakes to give a number of reasons as to how they were improperly on the list, but with these reasons we have no concern. The fact is that they were placed there over the certificate of the treasurer, whose duty it was to certify that they were qualified voters. The treasurer also says in the same circular that he has collected money for which he has not yet accounted to the State. To use his own language, he says:

This sum I have not paid into the treasury and cannot do so until these persons are assessed. I will see that they are properly assessed if they have not been since my last settlement, and said sum will be paid over to the state in my next settlement with the auditor.

What would the people of the city of Alexandria think of their treasurer were he to publish over his own signature such a confession?

The treasurer of Louisa county knew, or should have known, his duties and if he did not know, he had the right to call upon the Commonwealth's Attorney of the county, who was Mr. R. L. Gordon, jr., to be informed as to his duties. Indeed, if he did not comply with the law, it was the duty of the Commonwealth's Attorney to see that he did comply with same, especially as the treasurer states in his circular that he has been making out these improper lists ever since the new law went into effect, and all during this period of time Mr. R. L. Gordon, jr., was the Commonwealth's Attorney as well as the political leader of the county, and he was not only familiar with the law, as he was a member of the new constitutional convention, but his activity in politics would indicate his familiarity with the preparation of the list of qualified voters. The treasurer of the county undertakes to excuse Mr. Gordon by saying:

Mr. Gordon, however, should not be charged with my mistakes. I never consulted him, as to this matter, or gave him any notice of it or opportunity to advise with me about it.

This effort to relieve Mr. Gordon will not be seriously taken by the law-abiding citizens of this state because it was Mr. Gordon's plain duty, in our judgment, to have taken cognizance of these matters, especially in an election where he himself was the candidate for so high an office as that of representative in the federal congress. Treasurer May, by taking the responsibility upon himself, undertakes to release the clerk of the court and Candidate Gordon. We are not undertaking to hold up any individual to public censure, but when a man poses as an election reformer and advertises himself as the apostle of pure elections, we think he owes it to the people to at least explain this condition of affairs which has existed in his county, according to the treasurer, for so many years. While we are not prepared to take as an answer to the charges these excuses offered by the treasurer of Louisa, yet we might have been willing to remain silent were it not for the fact that now comes the exposure by the Culpeper Exponent that a number of the names which were placed upon the qualified list in May, 1907, were returned by the same treasurer upon the delinquent list in July, 1907. In other words, the treasurer of Louisa county certified in May, 1907, that these people had paid their 1906 taxes and in July of the same year reports them to the auditor of the state as unpaid and receives credit by the auditor for these names by reason of the fact that they were on the delinquent list. We referred in our editorial of May 6th to the certificate which Mr. Gordon made. It is unnecessary to refer to it again, as we published it at the time. Mr. Gordon, up to the present time, though continuing his speeches about "pure elections" and the use of money and whisky, has remained silent as to this condition in his own county and has preferred to let it rest with the public upon the treasurer's confession, no doubt entertaining the hope that the numerous figures given by the treasurer would confuse the public mind and obscure the fraud confessed. Mr. Green, of the Exponent, has proven his case against Louisa county so far as the last primary was concerned. The people of this city would like to know whether this juggling of names from the delinquent list to the qualified list and after the primary back to the delinquent list is to be allowed in the coming primary and these votes to be polled against the candidate from this city.

The Culpeper Exponent has not stopped with the exposure in Louisa, but in its edition of May 15 makes the same charge against the officials of Orange county, which county, it will be remembered, gave nearly all of its vote to Mr. Gordon. The officials of Orange county have not as yet explained, nor are we prepared to say that they will, but the editor of the Culpeper Exponent announces that he is prepared to prove his case, and in view of what has occurred, it is more than probable that he has the facts in his possession or he would not make the charge.

In view of developments since the last primary, it is surprising indeed that Mr. Carlin's victory was nevertheless accomplished. Mr. Gordon's representative, Mr. Wampler, has been busy trying to find some evidences of fraud in this city, and although three weeks have elapsed, we have not heard even an echo except that perhaps a few men who were known as republicans determined to stand by the democratic party and may have voted in the primary. Everywhere throughout the district, in every county, there are republicans who voted in the primary and who stood by the nominee after the primary was over. Indeed, it is frequently a very difficult matter for a judge of election to determine a man's politics. This he must determine for himself.

UP TO this time the candidates for delegates from Virginia to the democratic national convention at Denver are not as numerous as on some former occasions, or if they are, the aspirants are keeping quiet; this is also the case in the matter of electors, but in all probability, before the convention meets, the woods will be full of such candidates. In all events it is hoped that Virginia will not instruct her delegates to the national convention but will give them a free hand when they reach Denver. Virginians who possess the confidence of their fellows to the extent of being made their representatives in a national nominating convention should not be trammeled by instructions but left to exercise their own judgment when the time comes to nominate a candidate for president.

OCEAN mail subsidy probably will not be in the postoffice appropriation bill after it is agreed to in conference. This clause was put in the bill in the Senate. Friends of ship subsidy have taken a poll of the House, and find that the plan, if put to the test now, would be defeated, as it should be.

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Representative Hammond, of Minnesota, the man who will nominate Mr. Johnson at Denver, referring to the vote in Alabama yesterday, said: "Johnson received a most flattering vote, far beyond what his most optimistic friends had hoped. His campaign lasted only about eighteen days, and the heavy work not more than ten."

Secretary Taft announced this afternoon that as a result of his visit to Panama, the United States government will "observe" the coming election in the republican and ever threatened trouble. But for his visit, the secretary intimates, a revolution would have been certain to follow the election.

As a result of a careful study of the situation by the leaders on both sides of the Capital it is practically settled that there will be no currency legislation enacted at this session of Congress. The differences between the Aldrich bill which passed the Senate and the Vreeland measure which passed the House are so radical, and the pride of opinion in each branch of Congress is so great that the leaders agree that the short time remaining before final adjournment on Saturday it will be next to impossible to induce either the house to yield, despite the fact that the conferees might be able to reach an agreement between themselves. Although efforts have not been entirely abandoned, it can be stated on the highest authority that the leaders now believe financial legislation of any kind at this session to be out of the question and the whole matter will go over until next winter.

A general conference of House republicans will be held Wednesday night to discuss anti-injunction legislation. Representatives Townsend (republican, Mich.), Pollard and Norris (republicans, Neb.), secured today the necessary fifty signatures to a petition for a conference. These anti-injunction leaders say they will not unite with the democrats to secure legislation, but will endeavor to get what they want through their own party.

The bill proposing to amend the Hepburn rate law so that bills of lading, used in interstate commerce, may be made uniform, was today put to sleep until next session by the House committee on interstate and foreign commerce.

As a result of a careful study of the situation by the leaders on both sides of the Capitol, it is practically settled that there will be no currency legislation enacted at this session of Congress. The differences between the Aldrich bill, which passed the Senate, and the Vreeland measurer, which passed the House, are so radical, that the leaders agree that in the short time remaining before final adjournment on Saturday, it will be impossible to induce either house to yield, despite the fact that the conferees might be able to reach an agreement between themselves. It can be stated on the highest authority that the leaders now believe financial legislation of any kind, at this session, to be out of the question, and that nothing on that line will be attempted until next winter.

The omnibus public building bill was reported to the Senate today from the Senate committee on public buildings and grounds. It carries a total appropriation of about $31,000,000 which is an increase of nearly $9,000,000 over the amount carried in the bill as it passed the House. Of this total, $6,000,000 is for the government buildings in the District of Columbia. It is the intention of Chairman Scott to call the bill for consideration in the Senate tomorrow.

Townsend, Pollard and Norris secured in a short time today the necessary fifty signatures to a petition for a conference. These anti-injunction leaders say they will not unite with the democrats to secure legislation, but will endeavor to get what they want through their own party.

A delegation of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers of America, escorted by Congressman Carlin, yesterday called on Speaker Cannon to urge him to allow the anti-injunction bill and the bill to require safety ash pans to be placed on engines to be called up. The speaker said the latter bill was all right, but he was not satisfied with the anti-injunction bill.

The cruiser-yacht Mayflower, under the command of Commander Thomas Snowden, has returned to Washington from Guantanamo, Cuba, where she had her record target practice.

Several representatives called upon President Roosevelt today to congratulate him upon the success of the recent conference with the governors. They declared that the agitation for the Atlantic coast inland waterway traffic would be continued. The conference of representatives of all the coast states will be held in Baltimore. They will also take up the movement to hold a national waterways convention in Washington during the first week of Congress.

President Roosevelt today cabled congratulations to the Czar upon his birthday.

The Senate committee on education and labor today agreed that on December 2nd next, the day after the meeting of Congress, it would take up for consideration the national child labor bill introduced by Senator Beveridge.

News of the Day.

The majority for Bryan over Johnson in the democratic primary of Alabama is large, probably four to one.

George A. Kean, democrat, was yesterday elected Mayor of Cumberland over John G. Miller by a majority that may reach 500.

Most Rev. Peter Bourgade, known as the "humblest and best loved man in the hierarchy of the Roman Catholic Church in the United States," died in Chicago yesterday. The deceased passed the greater part of his life as a missionary among the Indians of the southwest.

May corn reached a record-breaking price on the Chicago Board of Trade yesterday when James A. Patton squeezed J. Ogden Armour and forced the price to 76 cents. Millions of dollars are said to have been lost by Armour in his efforts to break the Patton corner and cover his shortage.

The Southern Baptist Convention at Hot Springs yesterday adopted resolutions condemning the liquor traffic in all its phases. Congress is urged to prohibit the shipment of liquor into dry territory, and people everywhere are urged not to vote for candidates who are in sympathy with the saloon interests.

Jennie Blunt, the young woman convicted of shooting Lawyer Charles M. Sanford, of Brooklyn, N. Y., whom she alleged betrayed her, was yesterday sentenced to not less than three or more than four years in Auburn prison by Judge Dyke. She fainted when sentenced and had to be carried from the courtroom.

The House committee on library has authorized Representative McCall, of Massachusetts, chairman of the committee, to report favorably his resolution directing the superintendent of the Capitol building to rearrange the House chamber and seating plan in a temporary manner, according to the plans submitted to the Fifty-fifth Congress at its second session. This plan contemplates eliminating the desks now used and will make the seating arrangements more like those of the English House of Commons. If the House adopts this resolution the change will be made this summer, and final action will be taken next December.

THREATENED REVOLT.

The managers of the House of Representatives have another revolt on their hands. Yesterday a delegation composed of Representatives Townsend, of Michigan; Hayes, of California; Madison, of Kansas, and Pollard, of Nebraska, waited on Speaker Cannon and, it is reported, told him that if on anti-injunction bill was not reported from the committee on judiciary and an opportunity given to vote upon it, they and others would join the democrats to prevent an adjournment.

The delegation was backed up by a petition signed by forty republican members pledging themselves to take this action. It developed yesterday that the revolt among republicans against the determination of the leaders to adjourn Congress without passing a bill to regulate the issuance of injunctions has been growing for several days.

Whether this revolt will disappear under the application of the party whip remains to be seen. The leaders have been faced with it so unexpectedly that plans for its suppresion have not been arranged. There are, perhaps, not more than a dozen republicans who favor the Pearre injunction bill, which is the one indorsed by organized labor, but there are quite a number who believe there should be a measure of some sort enacted before adjournment. On the other hand, there is a tremendous sentiment among business men bitterly hostile to any legislation whatever relating to injunctions.

A determined group of fifty republicans, if they joined with the democrats, could block all adjournment plans.

Some weeks ago the president told callers at the White House that if Congress failed to authorize four battle ships he would veto the public building bill. The president got two battle ships. If he has changed his mind in this regard he has not notified the House leaders, so far as can be learned.

A PESTIFEROUS GERM

Burrows Up the Scalp Into Dandruff and Saps the Hair's Vitality.

People who complain of falling hair as a rule do not know that it is the result of dandruff, which is caused by a pestiferous parasite burrowing up the scalp as it digs down to the sheath in which the hair is fed in the scalp. Before long the hair root is shriveled up and the hair drops out. If the work of the germ is not destroyed hair keeps thinning till baldness comes. The only way to cure dandruff is to kill the germ, and until now there has been no hair preparation that would do it; but today dandruff is easily eradicated by Newbro's Herpicide, which makes hair glossy and soft as silk.

Night Riders Burn Barn.

Lancaster, Ky., May 19.—Night riders burned the large barn on H. G. Maddox's farm in Ballard county today. Flint Randall and Miss Maggie Tate, young people of the neighborhood, had been to a party and met the band while going home. They were made to accompany the riders. When they reached the barn, the young people say, the night riders kneeled and the leader prayed and then they set the barn afire. Not a word was spoken, everything was done by signals. When the barn's destruction was assured they rode away singing "Nearer, My God To Thee." Maddox had sold his tobacco to independents.

Was Born In Norway.

Trondhjem, Norway, May 19.—Brynhild Poulsdatter was the maiden name of Mrs. "Belle" Gunness, according to a report just made by the authorities of the village of Selbu, near here, to the Trondhjem police. The woman was born at Selbu, November 11, 1859, the village records show, and left Norway to go to America 30 years ago. Her only surviving relative in the village, a sister, who died only last Friday, formerly received frequent letters from her from Chicago, but had not, it is said, heard from her for several years. The police are convinced that she has not returned to Norway.

Killed Father and Himself.

New York, May 19.—George E. Sperey, aged 72, a member of the firm of Weaver and Sperey, wholesale drug importers, was shot and instantly killed a few minutes after noon today by his son, George E. Sperey, jr., who then fired a bullet into his own brain. Both men died instantly and the dead bodies were found seated in chairs facing each other in the private office of the elder man, a few seconds after the shots had attracted employes of the place to the room. At this time the motive for the killing is unknown.

Ex-Commissioner Kills Himself.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 19.—John McGaughey, former county commissioner, today committed suicide by shooting. His name had been connected with the expose of the gas tax county frauds, and he had been before the grand jury several times. McGaughey worried about the charges which he said were unjust. He asked his nephew, a prominent physician, as to the easiest way to end life, but the nephew laughed away his questions. McGaughey shot himself at his home in the presence of his family.

The Sultan Yields to France.

He wanted to buy Horacles mines in Asia Minor from the French owners and the latter refused to sell until convinced that the price—$15,000,000—would be forthcoming. The sultan considered this an affront and showed a disposition to take the property by force. At this point the French government interferred. Now the sultan promises to produce the $15,000,000.

New York Stock Market.

New York, May 19.—The market was extremely active all through the first hour with a demonstration of continued strength in the early trading when prices moved up, but before the end of the hour heavy selling by the room, profit taking sales by the bankers and cliques, and an extention of the already large short interest in the shape of further heavy sales for short account caused a reaction on which most of the early advances were lost and in some cases fractional net declines were sustained.

After a reaction the market rallied, easily recovering all of its loss and at midday the tone was strong with prices of many stocks then at the highest range so far reached.

Mysterious Death.

Princeton, N. J., May 19.—So much doubt exists as to the cause of the death of Bertha Vanderbilt, the assistant librarian of Princeton, whose body was found in Raritan canal Monday, that her body will be held here until a thorough examination of the mystery is made. Coroner Moke, of Middlesex county, believes it a case of accidental drowning. Chief of police Kilfoil, of Princeton, is firm in the opinion that the girl met with foul play. There is a severe bruise on the dead girl's forehead and bad bruises on both of her cheeks.

Sixtieth Congress.

Washington, May 18.

SENATE.

Senator Taylor, of Tennessee, made his debut in the Senate today. Although a member of that body for several months he has kept quiet until now.

He was listened to with close attention and many of his sallies provoked laughter on both sides of the chamber. Claiming that all power not expressly conferred upon the federal government is reserved to the States he said:

"But, in these imperial days when concentrated wealth is intrenched under the dome of the capital and centralized power is enthorned in the White House, what can be expected but the gradual encroachment of the federal government upon the reserved rights of the States? How can the equilibrium be preserved under the reign of a big stick and a bag of gold? "Are not concentrated wealth and centralized power dictating the policies of the party in power and controlling the legislation of Congress."

Continuing he said: "I cannot understand the consistency of clubbing the trust over the head at the same time fighting for tariff, the mother of the trust. I would not reflect upon the chief executive of the nation. On the contrary, I would praise him for the noble things he has done during his incumbency, chief of which was turning on the light and revealing the enormity of the crime his party has committed. But our peerless president reached the limit when he seized all the best reform planks of all the democratic platforms of the past and planted himself squarely upon them. Was there ever a grander spectacle of coup d'etat than his in the history of American politics? The question for you on the other side of the chamber to settle is: Are you going to put his reform policies in your platform at Chicago? If you are, why don't you endorse Bryan and be done with it? If you are not, you will repudiate your President.

HOUSE.

The House today agreed to the conference report on the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill. As the bill came out of the conference and goes to the president it contains an appropriation of $150,000 for the investigation of coal mine disasters.

CHRISTIAN SCIENTISTS FAIL AGAIN.

Edward Carpenter, a millionaire from New York, died a week ago at one of the Vanderbilt villas at Biltmore, N. C., and for five days his wife, assisted by other Christian Scientists, made continuous efforts to resurrect the dead man, who also had been a believer in Christian Science.

Mrs. Carpenter would not permit the undertakers to touch her husband's body, declaring he was not dead. Doctors and trained nurses, of whom she had a large number, used all their efforts to persuade her to have the body embalmed, but she ordered them from the house. Mrs. Carpenter declared repeatedly that her husband was about to speak to her. She said that a very dear friend of hers was brought back to life a number of years ago by Christian Science after the doctors had said she was dead.

After the efforts of the Christian Scientists at resurrection had failed, Mrs. Carpenter, declaring that nothing could part her from her husband, shut herself up with the body. By a ruse, while Mrs. Carpenter slept, the trained nurse had the body spirited away and embalmed. Mrs. Carpenter was told that she could not remain at the Biltmore villa longer with the body. Ordering the most expensive casket she could procure, she had the body shipped to Savannah, Ga., her former home, whither she accompanied it.

TO UNVEIL MONUMENT.

Confederate memorial services will be held in Leesburg on May 28th, at which time the Confederate Monument erected by the Clinton Hatcher Camp, C. V., and the local chapters of the Sons and Daughters of the Confederacy in honor of the Confederate dead of Loudoun county will be unveiled. The speakers for the occasion will be Governor Claude A. Swanson on behalf of the Sons of Veterans; Colonel Edmund Berkeley, on behalf of the veterans, and United States Senator John W. Daniel will deliver the address immediately following the unveiling by Master Elijah V. White, grandson of the late Colonel E. V. White, of Confederate fame.

The speakers will be introduced by Judge C. E. Nichol, of Manassas.

THE PLAT DIVORCE SUIT.

Miss Catherine Wood was on the witness stand all day in New York, yesterday testifying in her suit for absolute divorce from United States Senator Thomas C. Platt before Justice O'Gorman in the Supreme Court. In support of her assertion that she had been secretly married to Senator Platt at the Fifth Avenue Hotel on November 9, 1901, her counsel introduced in evidence a marriage certificate which, she said, had been handed her by the minister who performed the ceremony, and copies of a number of letters alleged to have been written to her by the senator, addressed in terms of endearment.

On cross examination Miss Wood told him she came to give up the papers and letters she possessed relating to Senator Platt, alleging that she did so under duress and was compelled to sign a receipt for $10,000 in settlement of all her claims against the senator.

Miss Wood in her suit named as corespondent Lillian Janeway whom Senator Platt married in 1903.

She declares the senator was so happy he was almost reconciled to Odell's election and she said he sent her a thousand kisses by mail. She displayed letters addressed "my little bride-to-be" The senator claims the letters are forgeries.

UNDOING VESUVIUS'S WORK.

One of the many towns destroyed by the eruptions of Mount Vesuvius has been entirely reconstructed. It is the village of Ottajano, toward the reconstruction of which the Italian government contributed big sums of money.

There was a celebration last week for the dedication of the new town, which was attended by several thousand persons and by all the authorities. It is the intention of the Italian government to do the same work in the other villages damaged or destroyed by Vesuvius.

The New York American says that Mrs. Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt is to gain an absolute divorce from her husband, if the recommendation of Referee David McClure is carried out by Justice O'Gorman.

THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, EASTERN DISTRICT OF VIRGINIA.

Whereas on the 16th day of May, 1908, L. L. Lewis, attorney for the United States for the Eastern District of Virginia, for and in the name of the United States of America filed a libel in the District Court of the United States for the Eastern District of Virginia against 800 sacks of flour shipped from Orville, Ohio, to Alexandria, Virginia, by the Orville Milling Company, of Orville, Ohio, 640 sacks of which are labeled "Southern Star Family, H. Kirk & Son, Alexandria, Va.," and 160 sacks of which are labeled "Bitter than Diamond, Fancy, H. Kirk & Son, Alexandria, Va."

And whereas, by virtue of process in due form of law, to me directed, returnable on the 19th day of May, 1908, I have seized and taken the said 800 sacks of flour and have them in my custody.

Notice is hereby given that a District Court will be held in the United States court room, in the city of Alexandria, on the

SEIZURE OF FLOUR.

As has been stated in the Gazette, the federal authorities in this city, acting on a libel of information filed by Assistant District Attorney Robert H. Talley, on Saturday seized 800 sacks of flour shipped by the Orrville Milling Company, of Orrville, O., to H. Kirk & Son, of Alexandria.

The action is based on the Orrville Company's alleged violation of sections 8 and 10 of the pure food and drugs act, passed a year or so ago by Congress.

The statute in question aims to forbid the shipment of misbranded foods and drugs in interstate commerce. Congress has no authority to forbid mistranding when the offense is confined to any particular State, but once the goods are transported in interstate commerce, it finds power to act.

The flour which fell into the hands of the federal authorities last Saturday, is variously labeled "Southern Star, H. Kirk & Son, Alexandria," and "Better Than Diamond, H. Kirk & Son, Alexandria."

This, according to the contention of the federal authorities, smacks of fraud, because it gives to intending purchasers no information whatsoever of the fact that the product is manufactured in Ohio. On the contrary, it rather creates the impression that it is manufactured in Virginia.

The law covering the case provides that the goods thus seized must be confiscated. In some instances the goods are sold and the proceeds put into the national treasury, while in other cases they are destroyed.

Each of the sacks of flour seized in this city contains one-sixteenth of a barrel, so the loss to the shippers will be quite heavy if the government establishes its case.

A member of the firm of H. Kirk & Son in a conversation with a representative of the Gazette today said the flour is all in their possession; that it was merely a case of mislabeling which could be easily rectified at a small cost, and that the entire issue resolved itself into a technicality. Mr. Kirk says he is having a stamp made stating that the flour was manufactured for him and that when this is placed upon the sacks the mistake will be rectified.

It will, however, be seen by a notice of Morgan Treat, U. S. Marshal for this district, that the federal authorities are not viewing the matter in that light, as the marshal announces the seizure of the flour and has set in motion all the legal proceedings in connection with alleged violation of the pure food law in the case.

NEW MILITARY COMPANY.

A meeting for the purpose of organizing a new military company in this city was held last night at the office of F. L. Slaymaker. Fifty-one men signed the roster and the following officers were elected: F. L. Slaymaker, captain; R. H. C. Beverley, first lieutenant; O. H. May, second lieutenant; T. B. Cochran, first sergeant. Mr. Slaymaker was formerly a lieutenant in company G. Several other non-commissioned officers will be named by the captain at a future date.

The officers will go to Richmond next week to take the military examination. Afterward the company will be mustered in. Maj. James E. King, with the assistance of Mr. Slaymaker, organized the company, and he will accompany the officers of the new organization to Richmond.

It is expected that the company's roster by the close of the present week will contain at least sixty names.

No name has yet been selected for the company. As soon as the officers pass the required examination another meeting will be held, when arrangements will be completed for drills and other work. It is not known where the company will be mustered in, as the members of the Alexandria Light Infantry still retain the keys of Armory Hall.

The new company will take the place of Company G, Seventieth Virginia Regiment known as the Alexandria Light Infantry, which was disbanded by order of the governor May 2. Members of the Alexandria Light Infantry assert that the disbandment of Company G did not necessarily disband the Light Infantry, and in view of this fact they will retain the keys to Armory Hall. The courts will be called upon to determine who has a right to the use of the hall.

POLICE COURT.

[Justice H. B. Caton presiding.]

The following cases were disposed of this morning:

Alice Page, colored, charged with vagrancy, was fined $5.

Albert Lee and Emma Cole, charged with disorderly conduct, were fined $5 each.

Four young men, charged with disorderly conduct toward a colored boy, were fined $5 each.

A white man, charged with drunkenness, was dismissed.

Five young men, charged with disorderly conduct, had their case set for 7 o'clock tomorrow evening.

A resident of north Washington street, charged with cruelty to a horse, had his case continued until 7 o'clock tomorrow night.

Lee Downs, charged with stealing milk from Christopher Lyles, was sent to jail for 60 days. William Lyles, charged with being a party to the theft, was dismissed.

MOUNT VERNON.

Governor Swanson, his private secretary, Mr. B. P. Owen, and Messrs. Forbes, of Fredericksburgh, and Sands, of Richmond, came here today and went to Mount Vernon to attend the meeting of the Mount Vernon Board of Visitors, who met there today during the session of the regents. The regents during their meeting have transacted considerable business.

The city seems to be overrun with dogs, many of whom are worthless curs which should be destroyed.

"OAK FARM."

As many interesting features have been mentioned in connection with this pleasing three-act comedy drama to be presented by the Elks' Dramatic Club at the Opera House tonight, it may be well to say that the generosity of this genial and talented organization will be rewarded by a large and appreciative audience when the curtain rises for the first act. Every improvement, if there could be any, has been looked after and each character is thoroughly equipped for the occasion. To those who witnessed the performance several weeks ago it needs no recommendation, but to those who have been fortunate to secure seats for tonight, we are firmly of the opinion that they will be agreeably surprised at the array of talent in this organization. The club has been before Alexandria audiences a number of times and always with pleasing effect, but we are inclined to believe this drama the acme of their successes. Previous performances have been for the benefit of worthy objects. The proceeds tonight will be used to better equip the members with the essentials necessary in a first-class dramatic club. They deserve a crowded house. Many compliments have been passed on the stage settings, which were designed and executed by Mr. A. D. Montier.

DAIRY MAIDS' RECEPTION.

The old homestead with pastures and herds, clover fields and walk ways through the daisies—the country glorified—was made to pass in review at the Young People's Building last night. Nearly a score of lassies called the cows home and milked new pails full of rich milk and tripped along singing farm ballads with hearts care-free. Special numbers were rendered by the following: Miss Marguerite Field sang a pretty dairy maid's love song; Miss Grimes went to the country "fair" and up in a balloon, with mother calling her to drive the cows out of the clover; Little Marian Henshaw, as clever an artist as can be found of her age, sang about the wonderful baby; Mrs. Thomas A. Hulfish with elocutionary grace unsurpassed, recited. Instrumental numbers were rendered by Mrs. Ida Smithers and Messrs. Smith and Hall. The programme was in charge of Mrs. C. E. Outcalt. After the programme all present were served with ice cream and strawberries in the reception rooms by the charming Maud Mullers, assisted by several dignified "judges." The programme will be repeated tonight. Refreshments will be served again. The public is invited.

THE NEW SCHOOL BUILDING.

The special committee appointed by the City School Board to consider the matter of the erection of a new school building on the Brent lot met last night. A number of plans were submitted but that of Mr. C. M. Robinson, of Richmond, was deemed the best and was adopted. The building is to be of brick and cement and is to contain sixteen rooms. The old Brent building is to be torn down and the material in it used in the construction of the new building, the cost of which is to be about $30,000.

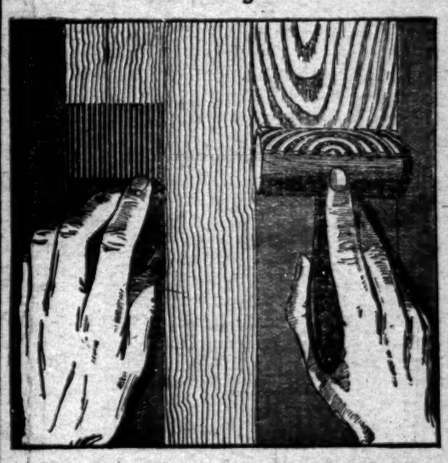
A Hardwood Floor of any Color You may Choose for $2.50



Floors which are in too poor condition to be improved with varnish alone can be made to imitate a genuine hardwood floor with this new patented Graining System.

This process does not require the services of a professional wood finisher.

The Graining Tool takes the place of skill and can be successfully used by the inexperienced man or woman, thus making it possible for any one at a very slight expense to enjoy the luxury of a new hardwood floor.

This Graining Compound when protected by one or two coats of Chi-Namel produces a surface that will out-wear any ordinary varnished floor, many times over.

Hundreds of people will come to our store this week to see CHI-NAMEL Demonstrated. Come and let the lady show you what you can do with CHI-NAMEL. You will be surprised.

TUESDAY EVENING, MAY 19, 1908.

Sharpshooters of the Revolution.

As soon as a pioneer boy was big enough to level a rifle he was given powder and ball to shoot squirrels. After a little practice he was required to bring in as many squirrels as he had received charges under penalty of a severe lecture or even of having his jacket "tanned." At the age of twelve the boy became a fort soldier, with loophole assigned him from which to fight when the settlers rallied against an Indian foray. Growing older, he became a hunter of deer, elk, buffalo and bear, skilled in trailing and in utilizing cover, capable of enduring long marches through trackless mountain forests. At night he was content to curl up in a single blanket beside a small fire and sleep under the roof of heaven. If it rained, in a few minutes he built him a lodge of bark or boughs with no implement but his one pound tomahawk. Incessant war with the Indians taught him to be his own general, to be ever on the alert, to keep his head and shoot straight under fire. Pitted against an enemy who gave no quarter, but tortured the living and scalped the dead, he became himself a stanch fighter who never surrendered. The wilderness bred men of iron.

The Churchyard Yew's Secret.

"Why are yew trees found in cemeteries only?" said a forester. "Why, all over the world—saving here, where they don't exist—do you find in cemeteries great yews of immemorial age? Antiquaries have tried to attach some druidic significance to the matter. Yews grow in churchyards and nowhere else; hence they were sacred to the dead in the time of the Druids, and it was as erroneous to plant them in your garden as to plant tombstones there. I have exploded that superstition. On a walking tour of England one summer I asked every farmer I met why he had no yews on his place. The answer was always the same: 'Do you think I want to lose my cattle?' or 'Had one, but cut it down. The beasties got at it, and yew leaves is poison to the beasties.' Yes, that is the secret of the churchyard yew. It grows only in cemeteries because the farmers have destroyed it everywhere else, its leaves being injurious to live stock."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Washington and a Dog.

While the British occupied Philadelphia and the American force lay in winter quarters at Valley Forge, one day as Washington and his staff were dining a fine hunting dog which was evidently lost came to seek something to eat. On its collar was the name, "General Howe." Washington ordered that the dog should be fed, and then he sent it to Philadelphia under a flag of truce, with a letter reading: "General Washington's compliments to General Howe. He does himself the pleasure to return to him a dog which accidentally fell into his hands and by the inscription on the collar appears to belong to General Howe." The British commander in reply sent a cordial letter conveying his warm thanks for this act of courtesy of his enemy.

A Judge's Poetical Request.

In "Memoirs of Famous Trials," by Rev. E. V. Burnaby, is an amusing story about the late Lord Bowen, "a brilliant, intellectual and clever judge." His lordship wanted a lift to the lord chancellor's breakfast in 1883 and addressed the following request to his old friend, Mr. Justice Mathew:

My Dear J. C.—Will you be free to carry me, beside of thee, in your buggee to Selborne's tea, if breakfast he intends for we, on 2 November next D. V., eighteen hundred and eighty-three A. D., for Lady B., from Cornwall G., will absent be and says that she would rather see her husband be D dash D than send to London her buggee for such a melancholy spree as Selborne's toast and Selborne's tea?

The Sneezing Prayer.

The custom of following a sneeze with a prayer goes so far back into the past it is next to impossible to say when it actually began. According to Strada, the custom originated among the Assyrians, who, through an opinion of the danger that attended it, after the act of sneezing made a short prayer to the gods. The Romans after sneezing cried out, "Jupiter, help me!" The custom is mentioned by Homer, the early Jewish writers and others and is found among many savage tribes.

The Original New Zealanders.

The original New Zealanders were known as the most ferocious cannibals and the most warlike savages. They were big, gaunt fellows, of immense muscular force and great sagacity. These savage New Zealanders, though they ate their enemies, interred their own dead, and they believed that the third day after burial the heart separated itself from the corpse and was carried to the clouds by an attendant spirit.
